

“I get to help bring national retailers and restaurants to the local market, ultimately playing a role in helping create the vibrant retail community of West Michigan.”

Earl has lived in West Michigan for over 43 years. His early career in the retail world equipped him to step into brokerage in 1980. Throughout his career he has played a pivotal role in bringing major retailers and restaurants to West Michigan.

He specifically works with national-level retail clients, representing them throughout the state and country. He specializes in tenant site selection, providing his market knowledge of major retail corridors and bringing his unique insight into the situation.

With over 42 years of brokerage experience, Earl regularly studies the market for his prospects and clients, helping inform their real estate decisions.
