

"I love working in the Investment Group because it allows me to work on a variety of commercial real estate transactions that are all different in many ways."

Dave's career in real estate has brought him to markets all over the country, but he has always called West Michigan home. After attending Grand Valley State University, he grew to love the people and rich culture within the city of Grand Rapids. His passion to see ideas and dreams turn into tangible projects helped propel his desire to pursue land acquisition, development, and investment sales.

For over fifteen years, Dave has been customizing his advice, solutions and expertise to each client, giving them a seamless experience. He enjoys helping each client achieve success by understanding their unique goals as a business.

Dave's niche within the investment team includes site-selection, strategic market research, navigating local entitlement process and contract negotiation.
